We acknowledge the Traditional Custodians of the land on which we live, work and play.

We pay our respects to Darkinjung country, and Elders past and present. We recognise the continued connection to these lands and waterways and extend this acknowledgement to the homelands and stories of those who also call this place home. We recognise our future leaders and the shared responsibility to care for and protect our place and people.

WHERE TO FIND US

Getting here

The Central Coast is located in New South Wales, on the east coast of Australia. Situated north of the state's capital, Sydney, and south of Newcastle.

The Central Coast is a region full of inviting waterways, pristine beaches and abundant natural beauty. It provides for the quintessential Australian escape, but offers much more than a traditional beach holiday experience.

Car

Head north out of Sydney on the Pacific Highway, then get onto the M1 Pacific Motorway.

From Wahroonga

There are three key exits to access the Central Coast:

- Central Coast Highway -
Signs marked Gosford, Woy Woy, Terrigal.
- Wyong Road -
Signs marked Wyong, Tuggerah, The Entrance, Yarramalong.
- Sparks Road -
Signs marked, Wyong, Warnervale, Wyee, Toukley.

Other exits to visit the hinterland include - Mooney Mooney, Calga, Somersby and Peats Ridge and Ourimbah exits from the M1.

When travelling from Newcastle, follow either the M1 Pacific Motorway or A43 Pacific Highway south to reach the Central Coast.

Train

NSW TrainLink runs regular rail services to the Central Coast departing approximately every half-hour from Sydney and every hour from Newcastle, with travel time approx 1 hour and 30 minutes from each destination. Key stations to disembark include Woy Woy, Gosford, Ourimbah, Tuggerah and Wyong.

Ferry

Palm Beach Ferries operate daily services between Sydney (Palm Beach) and the Central Coast (Ettalong Beach). Visit the Palm Beach Ferry website, or call 02 9974 2411.

Bus

Take the scenic route and hop on the bus to see the sights. Buses depart regularly from key Central Coast railway stations and the Ettalong ferry wharf to towns like Terrigal, Avoca Beach, Woy Woy, Long Jetty, Soldiers Beach and other attractions. Plan your trip at www.transportnsw.info.

Air

Newcastle Airport is located approx 115km, 1 hour 15 minutes drive from Gosford. Sydney Kingsford Smith Airport is located approx 85 km, 1 hour 20 minutes drive from Gosford, or is easily accessible via train.

For more information on Newcastle Airport call 02 4928 9800 or visit newcastleairport.com.au

Shuttle services are available to the Central Coast. Bookings are recommended.

WELCOME TO

The Central Coast

The Central Coast is a vibrant, sustainable NSW destination. Dotted with town centres, seaside hamlets and hinterland villages. Enriched by a diverse community of makers, creators, and innovators. Every guest can embrace adventure and excitement from bay to bush, from beach to back roads.

Every nook and neighbourhood of the Coast offers you unique possibilities in business, lifestyle, culture, education, nature and more.

We invite you to explore the variety of characters who live, work and play here, each making up the rich tapestry of the NSW Central Coast from headland to hinterland.

Go ECO on the Coast

The NSW Central Coast is a certified ECO Destination, so we've placed easy eco-friendly advice throughout this guide to help you explore our region responsibly.

OUR ECO DESTINATION

Protecting the places we love

As a destination, the Central Coast offers superb natural beauty alongside a great sense of freedom, space and connection to the land.

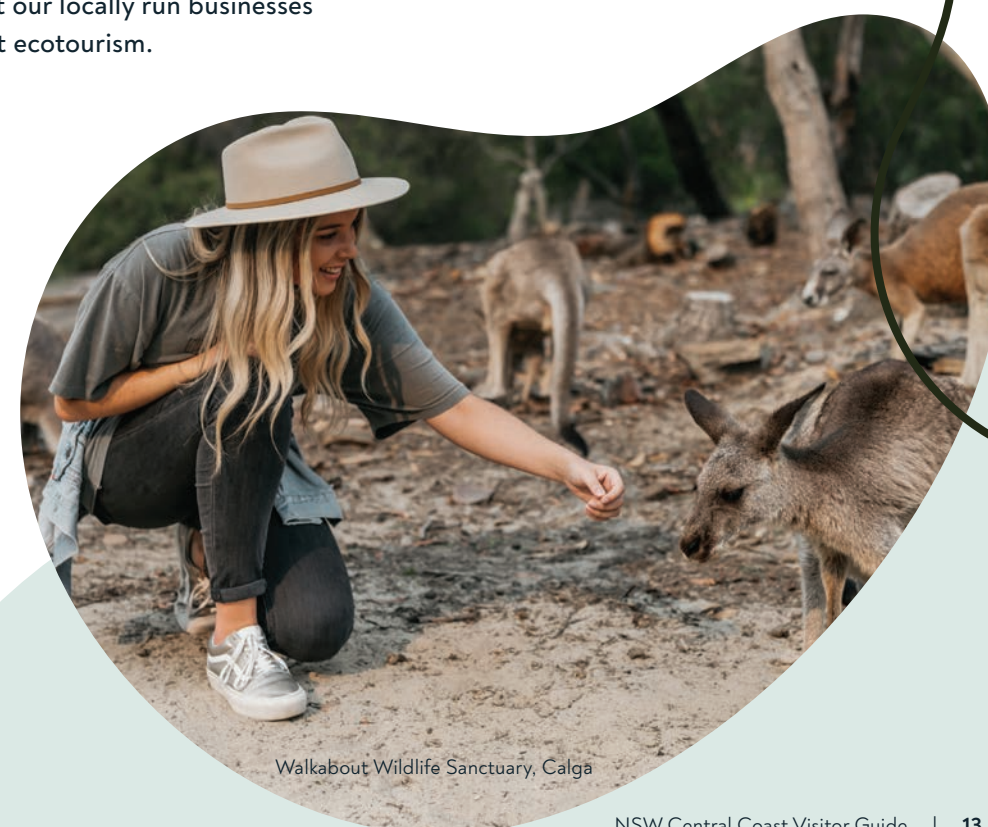

Locals and guests, makers and creators who explore our region are all shaped and inspired in some way by its unique natural environment – so how can we protect it for future generations? With a strong focus on sustainability and ecotourism led by internationally recognised Green Standards.

Recently certified as an ECO Destination, we place a high value on our natural environment, after all the Central Coast is a special place – not only to us, but also to the protected flora and fauna that live here. More than half of the Central Coast is national park, state forest, bushland, open space, nature reserves, beaches and waterways. This includes some of New South Wales' most popular nature-inspired experiences like Bouddi Coastal Walk, Ourimbah State Forest, Somersby Falls and the World Heritage Listed Old Great North Road in Dharug National Park.

Take only photos, leave only footprints.

For a unique experience that will make you feel great, scan below and check out our locally run businesses who are passionate about ecotourism.

Insider tips from inspiring locals

Be guided around the Central Coast by the people who know it best.

Nobody understands the hidden gems of the Central Coast quite like a local. We are lucky to have many Australian sporting legends, celebrities, musicians, creatives, producers and local heroes call the Coast home.

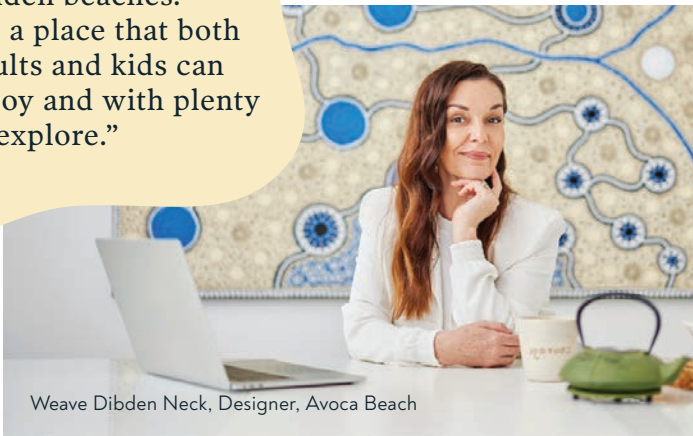

Check out the best cafés, modern eateries, national parks and waterways chosen by our locals.

Philip Moore, Distillery Botanica, Erina

“I love the general peacefulness of the Coast, discovering new walking trails and swimming at hidden beaches. It’s a place that both adults and kids can enjoy and with plenty to explore.”

Weave Dibden Neck, Designer, Avoca Beach

“Everything’s on your doorstep, you can surround yourself with the peacefulness of nature and even have the whole beach to yourself. You wouldn’t get that with the hustle and bustle of Sydney.”

Garry Purchase, Aboriginal Artist, Kariong

Glitta Supernova Creative Director of Naughty Noodle Fun Haus, Ettalong

“I just love being able to just sit on the beach and stare out to the horizon reconnecting with the energy of the Central Coast, it’s a very powerful land.”

Bianca Nelson, Aboriginal Naturopath (Yuin), Reiki Practitioner, Nutritionist and Iridologist, Erina

ACCOMMODATION

Stay

From beachside BnBs to rainforest retreats, find a stay to suit your style and budget.

You will be spoilt for choice when it comes to picking a home base for your stay on the Central Coast. You can choose to retreat from the rest of the world, forget your everyday worries and slow down in the comfort of a studio, cabin, shack or tiny home.

You can stay in a beachside belle tent, glamp in a stylishly converted shipping container, or watch sunrise from a lighthouse cottage. If boutique stays are more your style, we've got a number of luxurious holiday properties for a romantic escape, girls' weekend away or some quality time with your family.

Bringing the gang? No problem. The Central Coast has seven family-friendly holiday parks that will keep the kids happy for days. If you are looking for a truly unique Central Coast kid-proof stay, then don't forget about our gorgeous hinterland. Choose a farm stay where you can meet the animals or simply enjoy the fresh country air.

And if you can't leave your four-legged friend behind, there are pooch-friendly accommodation options as well.

Find a stay to suit your style.
